RUN NO 7: Trevor McWade and John Parton

Meet at Hulett's head office in Umhlanga Rocks Drive, i.e. towards the Mt Edgecombe intersection.

TIME: 5.15 for 5.30 pm

DATE: 3 November 1981

RUN NO 6: Steve Evans and Phil Williams:

Not only a hash run but a (mis-) guided tour of the rape of Umhlanga Rocks. A tragedy to see into what the so-called 'developers' have turned this once-peaceful village.

Extremely well set, confining the entire run into less than a square kilometre of Umhlanga. Starting at what was once the Durban View Hotel (remember those days, Ken Reardon, John Hudson, Judge Jeffreys?) Steve and Phil took us up into the village and highways and by-ways of Umhlanga. The pack was very well kept to-gether by the judicious use of checks and a slight bending of the rules (what else can one expect when two Hookers get together?) and led on by a very novel method of marking. This is not an example to be followed, as Phil himself found out when attempting to take the trail thru' the Umhlanga Sands.

The trail home led us along the beach-front and back up to road - much to the disgust of those self-proclaimed prophets who'd removed their shoes in preparation for a 'beach' run-in.

A thoughtful and well-led run which was marred by the non-availability of beer; Phil and Steve supplied only Lion Lager.

NORTH DURBAN HASH MOTTO:

Vietato L'ingresso a signore, bambini & cani, or
Entrée interdite aux femmes, chiens et chats.

HASH TRASH:

Women: "Doctor, there's something wrong with my ovaries."

Doctor: "My dear, you mean your ovaries - but let's have a look.
Oh, I see what you mean, there's been a cockatoo up here."

RECEDING HARELINE:

10.11 Alec Thomson

17.11 Nobby Clark

24.11 Brian Orton
