Meet at parking ground next to old Durban View Hotel on south side of Umhlanga Rocks Club-house.

NB Date: Tuesday, 16 March. Time: 5.15 for 5.30

Run N° 26: John Becker:

John recently got married.

That might not, at first blush, appear to mean a great deal but it is the only likely explanation for the manner in which he set the run.

First he made sure the loop was in, he then skirted round a deep gully, gently led us round the bushes & only then, after several unsuccessful attempts did he finally penetrate and, leading from the front, take matters to their logical conclusion.

Incidents along the way? The rare sight of three locks all together and at the front - there they were, Mark Worman, Tony Dixon & John Becker. Ken Reardon & Geoff Taylor finished first - can this ever be repeated? Then the slight tinge of guilt from those who ran in off paper & were now standing at the cars sipping beer when they saw the 'paper-followers' scrambling gingerly down that cliff-face.

Hint for future hares:

Brian Oston (a well-travelled man) pointed out that excellent hashing country was to be found on top of the plateau after following the road round the quarry & up.

THE SHIRTS:

Gratefully received thanks to Geoff Taylor and sponsor Roland Gantier (Basic Electronics). Geoff has supplies.

HASH TRASH:

What comes out of an erect penis?

The wrinkles.
