Run No. 32 - GARTH BERG and TONY DIXON

Car Park of the Oasis Roadhouse on the beach opposite Durban Country Club Golf Course.

DATE: WEDNESDAY N.B. WEDNESDAY 21st APRIL, 1982. TIME: 5.15p.m. for 5.30p.m.

RUN NO. 31 - DANNY ROWBOTHAM (assisted by BASHER BECKER):

Danny and Basher set this one in the form of a chase having left some twenty minutes before the pack. They rather unsportingly dashed any hopes of the hounds catching them by setting the first mile or so of the run up a gut busting hill. Thereafter, for those who know the area (and there appeared to be very few) the run was fairly predictable. Full marks, however, to the Hares for their ability to throw off the scent. This was done by two devilish falsies and a sortie into the bush just when the path appeared to be straight and true down to the quarry road.

It was at about this time that certain members of the pack began to show signs of rising panic. Adoons Dixon, who later claimed to be a Latter Day Moses by leading the pack out of the wilderness, manifested a fear of being trapped in the dark and refused to follow the pack into the bush. His greater fear of being left alone in the bush eventually got the better of him forcing him to follow the rest of the pack.

By now it was getting quite dark (don't forget those torches next week). The pack gathered in the gloom at a checkpoint at the junction of three roads. Eric Smith found paper leading away from the homeward trail. His high pitched screaming induced a few hounds to follow him. Somehow or other Adoons Dixon plucked up courage to do a check in the dark and believe it or not found paper. There followed a long run in along the road in the dark, the pack being urged on by the thought of those cold beers at the end. Nothing further will be said on this point however and readers are referred to the column headed "Sinner of the Week".

N.B. N.B. N.B.

Notwithstanding prior notice the Hash will not revert to Tuesday nights. This followed a democratic vote after Run 31 which was attended by a large pack.

SINNER OF THE WEEK:

CLASS A : Danny and Basher for providing an inadequate supply of warm beer - and no snacks.

CLASS B : Paul Lewis for missing the run (some feeble excuse about a wedding anniversary).

NEW FOOTPRINTS:

PETER ALMOND and STEWART JACKSON proving that cricketers can run. Pete, your attention is drawn to the fact that the Hash are a dedicated bunch of athletes proud of their well maintained bodies. Only our sponsors advertising is allowed on T shirts and in any event Hash members are encouraged not to eat hamburgers and chips.

MIKE ROOK, PAT AXON and GAVIN HINDSON.

HASH THRASH:

The Durban Hash House Harriers holds its annual Hash weekend on the 11th and 12th June, 1982. The weekend celebrates their 550th run and accommodation has been arranged at the White Mountain Resort at an inclusive cost of R27,00 for the weekend (that is Friday night to Sunday lunch). At least five of the North Durban Hash will be attending this weekend which in the past has lived up to true Hash traditions. The Durban Hash House Harriers encourage the attendance of women (and children) on their runs and your spouse/girlfriend will be welcome. There are only thirty beds left in the hotel and these can be reserved by paying Brian Orton a deposit of R10,00 per adult.

HASH CASH:

The pack will have noticed that Hash Cash has purchased a gas lamp (well done!) Audited financial statements prepared by Hash Cash read as follows:

Funds received	R72,85
Paid postage	26,20
	R46,65
Less cost of gas light	51,20
Gives you a debit balance of	R 4,55

Funds are still outstanding in respect of Run No. 11 (Eslick and Taylor), Run No. 14 (Becker and Thomas) and Run No. 30 (Ken Reardon).

RUGBY TOUR:

Ken Reardon announces that he has arranged a trip to Johannesburg over the weekend 23rd to 25th July, 1982; for the match between the Springboks and the World XV. The cost will be approximately R200,00, accommodation at the President Hotel. The cost includes air flight, transport, hotel accommodation and ticket to the rugby game. If there is sufficient interest a game of rugby will be organised against the Johannesburg Spoofers. Please contact Ken for details.
