RUN NO. 40 : GEOFF TAYLOR (YES, AGAIN!)

Northlands Sports Club

DATE: MONDAY N.B. MONDAY 7TH JUNE, 1982. TIME : 5.30 p.m.

RUN NO. 39 : STUART JACKSON and PETER ALMOND

This was definitely not a run for the weak and for cricket players. Jackskin and Alnut set about trying to prove that cricketers are really macho men with a bit of cunning thrown in. Indeed the false trails at the bottom of Delaware and Margaret Maytom had the pack guessing and then came what must be regarded as one of the better falsies seen to date. The trail took the pack across the pedestrian bridge over the freeway and onto Fairway. We all thought that the trail would then lead us past the airport and back home but this was not so. We had failed to note a false trail at the bottom of the pedestrian bridge and eventually somebody spotted our error and led us off towards Beechwood High School under the freeway to a sign "to airport". Many steps later we arrived at the bottom of Danville Avenue and followed the signs up towards the girls' school. At this point the hares made their biggest mistake. Apparently the trail led down Clint Crescent, up Marion Avenue and back along Newport. The pack, however, knew that a turn to the left would have them home within minutes - they did not hesitate. This short cut got the pack home minutes after the hares much to their surprise. There followed cold beers and later hot soup at the home of James Dixon for those who stayed. Thanks to the hares and to James and welcome back Celfyn Thomas.

HASH FLASH:

At a properly constituted meeting of the Hash on Wednesday it was decided that in future runs would be on either Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday night depending upon rugby and other sporting and social events. Your next newsletter will contain a list of the dates of future runs and the hares who will be setting those runs. The onus will be on a hare who is unable to set a run to find a substitute.
